FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

SATURDAY, June 5-6 P. M. Much to the surprise of people in Wall street the weekly bank statement is quite unfavorable. The salient feature is a loss in legal tenders of over four and a half millions of dollars, which is a rather unusual movement in the currency at this season of the year. Various reasons are assigned, but without giving any satisfactory explanation of the degiving any satisfactory explanation of the de-crease. The Western papers report a little better de-mand for money in their chief cities, but not enough to call for large shipments. The receipts for internal revenue taxes, as well as the sale of two millions of government gold, are also suggested; but while these causes have doubtless operated to withdraw some of the legal tenders it is well known that payment in both instances may be and has been generally made in national bank notes. The true explanation probably lies in the speculating movements of the cliques in the stock market, alls and bears It is intimated that the latter have intentionally tied up greenback currency to assist their operations. The deposits have also fallen off to the extent of nearly four millions—a sequence of the previous state of facts. The specie increase is flattering, despite the foreign exports of the precious metals, and is of course attributable to the government gold sales. The falling off in the excess beyond the legal reserve is over two and a quarter millions. The totals of the last two state ticipation of the character of the bank statement The prevailing rate on all classes of collaterals was seven per cent, but at this figure the demand was easily satisfied. The exceptions at six per cent wer fewer, and comprised instances where the securiexcellent standing. Commercial paper was quoted at 7 to 8% per cent for the general run of prime acceptances. In prompt negotiations the maker some-times allowed nine per cent. Similar exceptions took place the other way, a few prime notes going at id 6% per cent discount, but they were very rare and hardly quotable. Foreign exchange was steady on the basis of 109% for prime bankers' sixty days, and 110% for sight stering bills, but with a weak tendency, in sympa-thy with the falling off in imports during the week.

The currency balance in the government treasury is now about twenty-three millions which induces a feeling that Mr. Boutwell will increase his purchases onds. A considerable part of this balance consists of legal tender notes which have been withdrawn from circulation in order that they might be destroyed, as they bear the endorsement that they are "exchangeable for United States six per cent twenty year bonds, redeemable at the pleasure of the United States after five years." Between five and six hundred thousand dollars of these notes have been forwarded each week, for two or three months past, from this city to Washington. These notes, when destroyed, will be replaced by the new issue which It is expected will be ready for circulation about the first proxime. Governments opened strong and advanced about one-quarter per cent during the day, but closed dull yet firm, at the highest figures.  The stock market was less animated, in consequence of the absence of many prominent operators at the Jerome Para Baces. The struggle in the features of the railway list which have attracted so much attention during the week has not ceased. The bears pursued their policy of fighting the clastic ity of the market, but the fluctuations were not so marked as on previous days. Rock Island declined to 120% on the unfavorable character of its annual report, and 120% on the appearance of the bank statement. The lay was divided into two periods. One of depression in the forenoon, followed by a re-action at the last board; another of depression in the afternoon following the publication of the bank statement, which was, in turn, followed by a reaction. The attack on Rock Island was accom-panied by a report that the company would, if they had not already done so, issue more stock, to provide the money called for in the annual report. Michigan Southern was forced to 113%, thence reacted to 115%, thence declined to 113% and closed at 114. The Vanderbilt party were not particularly active in the stock to-day. They seem to be willing that the bear clique should break its price of keep it at low figures until they have made their dispositions for the consolidation between Buffalo and Chicago. The Northwestern stocks were less sensitive to the onslaught to-day, and the common stock refused to go below 92. New York Central Hudson River and Harlem were lower and dull. For Wayne declined to 157% and Illinois Central to 144. Phitsburg was more steady. Lake Shore ruled with Michigan Southern, New Jersey Central was weak and Morris and Essex strong. ## REAL ESTATE MATTERS.

The total of the auction sales during the past week exhibits the increased activity of the market as compared with that of the previous week. It will be noticed that the principal sales have been of New Jersey property. These were each held on the ground disposed of, with the accompaniments of an excursion and lunch. As some strictures have at various times been made upon the management of sales of this kind, it is but just to say that the most recent ones have been especially noticeable in the completeness of all the arrangements and the effec-Express, 51% a 32%; Adams Express, 60 a 60%; tive manner in which they were carried American Express, 50% a 40%; United States out. The result in each case has likewise been Express, 60% a 67%; Merchants' Union Express, equally grayifying and satisfactory. The attendance upon the several occasions was large and composed of men who came to purchase, the bidding prompt and spirited and the prices very fairly appreciative. The market is very rapidly assuming again the buoyant character which characterized it at this period last year, without the objectionable and delusive speculative excitement that has since intervened. It has been frequently stated here, and as the fact has been slow of acceptance by a very large class, it is deserving of repetition that, notwithstending the dulness that succeeded the culmination of that excitement in March, desirable property—that is, possessing proper attractions and surroundings for profitable investment—has maintained its firmness throughout the stagnation prevailing in the market. In the case of suburban property this firm feeling is now developing under the present animation into legitimate appreciation, and many holders who some time since thought it unlikely any tavorable opportunity would offer to sell during the present season now find the inquiry sufficient to warranthem in bringing large tracts into the market. It is in the very nature of our present financial system that real property should recover thus rapidly from any temporary depression resulting from over crowding the market, the large volume of currency adoat favoring the general inflation of all values, while stimulating investment in a direction offering such sound and stable security.

The coming wek promises continued activity in suburban property, several large sales being announced.

Below will be found the usual summary of auction sales during the past week, compared with that of the corresponding week last year and those of previous weeks this year.

THE HOTEL WAITERS' STRIKE.

From all evidences, it seems that the hotel waiters have got themselves into a serious difficulty. The hotels where they have abandoned their positions are now in a position not only to resist all their demands, but by a combination with others to prevent their employment in any of the first class public houses paving large wages.

At the Astor House nothing occurs to conflict with the old routine, and the only open opposition the proprietors encountered from their old employes was in the early stages of the strike, when their new representations induced, to some extent, to leave: this has now ceased, and Colonei Stetson expresses himself as better satisfied with his new force than he was with the old one.

It is well known that some of the keepers of the leading hotels of the city open houses at the prom-than he was with the old one.

It is well known that some of the keepers of the leading hotels of the city open houses at the prominent watering places—Long Branch, Saratoga, Newport and Niacara. These gentlemen do not intend to give employment to any men who are members of any society, neither will they permit dictation from any co-operative union. From these facts it looks as if the strike had been sadly unfortunate for those engaged in it; and furthermore detrimental if not aimost fatal to all unions where skined labor is not the incentive to co-operation. The rapidity and apparent success with which the hotels have recruited their forces certainly point to this conclusion; and the result will be that when the 460 strikers have exhausted their fund of 25,000 they and their families must suifer. Frinted lists have been made and circulated of those concerned in the movement, and are in the possession of the proprietors of all the leading hotels. Their object is to effectually exclude all these men from positions in the dining hall—a decision which the proprietors say they will unrelentingly enforce. The periect satisfaction professed by the hotel keepers may be a case of "affirming the acidity of grapes beyond their reach;" but, from all appearances in the dining halls, corridors, waiting and return grooms of the five houses affected by the strike, they seem to be traveiling along in the same old rut. The causes, immediate motives and effects of this movement may be stated thus:—

Shortly after the breaking out of the rebellion, when the labor movement was in an embryo state, the waiters' Union was organized. Like all bodies of its class, it required a considerable fund to maintain the society and to promnigate the edicts of this meetings. A sufficient som was realized, and from time to time as the fees feil due and were paid in, the sum in the treasury was found to augment for the route of the modiler equirements of the society. The members went on in successful co-operation, imposing their opositions upon th a fund of $7,000—an additional pillar of strength—and they seized what they considered the opportune moment to strike. They struck. The result has been to them a most diasstrous one. The reasons are because of the dull times at the hotels, and therefore an increased fund of independence among the wealthy proprietors; their unwise requirements touching the internal discipline of the hotels, and the nondescript nature of their duties. Waiting, by many New York epicureans, has been named as an accomplishment; yet, because of the general rush for the country during the hot season, the hotel keepers thought they could dispense with the graces and look only to the stemachs of their guests; hence their success with the awkward squad. The unfortunate termination of the strike has driven many good and faithful men out of their only competency—not the least to be regretted effect of this movement, which seems to have been conducted on the part of the men on the heads you win tails i lose principle.

Mr. W. E. Burrows, of the Everett House, writes

PRESENTATION TO SHERIFF O'BRIEN.

An expensive and expressive testimonial was presented to Sheriff O'Brien yesterday by the attaches of his office and a number of his other personal friends. At three o'clock in the afternoon the deputies and their assistants and several other gentle-men, among whom were Lawrence D. Kiernan, member of Assembly; First Marshal Joseph H. M. A. Pinnell, embarked in a number of coaches, which were in waiting, and proceeded at once to and through the Park to Bartholi's. The Sheriff had previously been taken in charge by the Sherifi had previously been taken in charge by the under sheriff, Mr. Joel Stevens, and Alderman Miller, and was sitting quietly in the parlor of the hostelry, as carriage after carriage drove up and the occupants alighted. Mr. O'Brien opened his eyes in astonishment and was wondering what all this portended. He was not long kept in suspense, for the party soon adjourned to an upper room, where Mr. Stevens, hodding a nobby gold-mounted whip in his hand, called the gentlemen present to order, and then, addressing the Sheriff, said:—

hand, called the gentlemen present to order, and then, addressing the Sheriff, said:—

Sirkery O'Brien.—I have been dequited by the attaches of the Sheriff's office to present to you a token of the admiration and esteem which each and every one of them entertains for you. From an humble beginning you have, by your own indomitable energy and perseverance, raised yourself to the highest executive office of this county. The attaches of your offices, therefore, in acknowledgment of your deserved success and as a testimonial of their gratitinde, have procured a pair of horses and wagon to present to you, and have prepared this little surprise for you. On their behalf I ask you to accept the gift, with the wishes of all that your future path may be ever smooth and easy roads until you arrive at the first of the strength of t most sincerely, and can say nothing more than that I do thank you.

At this juncture Mr. William H. Barthoif was espied driving around from the stables a magnificent team and a handsome light wagon, which, together with two full sets of single and doube harness, sheets, blankets, afghan, rug, halters and whips, al of the finest make, comprised the grit, the cost of which was some $10,000. The team has already won distinction on the turf, having won prizes for trotting in double harness at Burfalo and Cincinnati. The animals are named respectively Midnight and Lady Vitzen, and, it is said, can go in 2-30. After a pienteous repast the company started on the return to the city, headed by the "gift horses"—which were "looked in the mouth" by all the connoisseurs and pretended connoisseurs present—over which the Sherin, with Marshai Tooker as a companion, handled the ribbons.

and of the finest make, comprised the guit, the convenient of the control on the turn fasting won prize of trotting in double harness at Buffalo and Chours with the company started on the which were "colock in the month?" by all the control of th srewery. It was the general expression of all from the country that such a street as Fifth avenue and such a park as Central Park challenge comparison from anywhere in the world. The Germanic feeling of piety and reverence came out strongly when the whole company were in the presence of the monument of Friedrich Schiller in the Rark, and it was the expressed wish of many that the Humbolit statue, to be erected in September next, on the centenary of his birthday, will be placed on a more conspicuous point. At the Lion Park linch was served, at the conclusion of which, Mr. Liebmann, of Williamsburg, as President of the New York Association, welcomed the greets from the country, and his toast was drank with much enthusiasm. Mr. Kistner, of Clucianati, replied, and gave as a toast "that the unity and harmony of the brewers of the United States may increase in the same proportion as the consumption of their manufacture," which was responded to by three cheers. Mr. Werthmueller, of Davenport, Iowa, also spoke in the name of the brewers from the country, and he was responded to, in the name of New York city, by Mr. Henry Clausen, Jr., whereupon, in answer to numerous cais, Ma Bichard Katzenmayer, of New York made a well received speech in the course of which he advised the brewers to beware of the politicians; for, he said, politicians, whether of Europe or America, whether democrats or republicans, are always and everywhere scamps. The company was about proceeding to Westchester county, when the heavy shower scattered them, and the Ninth Congress of the American Brewers came thus to an end.

to me a despatch, whereof the enclosed is a translated copy. I am, with cordial revards, yours, very truly, JAMES B. CAUSTEN, Consul General.

REPUBLIC OF ECUADOR, QUITO, May 1, 1869.
Señor Don JAMES H. CAUSTEN, Consul General of the Republic, in Washington:—

The Governors of the allied republics of Peru, Chile and Rohvia have manifested their acquiesence, at the solicitation of the representatives of the Ecnadorian republic, not to act in hostility to the Spanish merchant ahips that come to trade in the ports of this nation, in pursuance of the passes issued by the government, or by its diplomatic agents or consuls abroad.

In virtue of this agreement his Excellency, the President of the republic, seeing no obstacie in commerce with Spain, I have received orders to confer on you especial authorization to forward the passes referred to to the Spanish merchant ships that wish to come to the ports of this republic.

Which I am pleased to communicate to you, in order that by such pass this concession to commerce shall obtain the end indicated.
